

Conférence de la Chaire Stephen-A.-Jarislowsky en gestion des affaires internationales et du GÉRAC

China-Pakistan Economic Corridor: Game Changer or Game Over?

The China-Pakistan Economic Corridor (CPEC) is considered the flagship project of the Belt and road initiative (BRI) of China. This project is the “Game Changer” for many in terms of economic development and trans-regional geo-politics of Pakistan. Some sceptics consider however the CPEC as “Game Over” for Pakistan. This conference will explore the multi-dimensional aspects of the CPEC and its implications on geo-strategic and economic development in Pakistan and surrounding regions.

Vendredi 27 octobre 2017

11 h 30 à 12 h 45

Salle Téléystème (1609), Pavillon Palasis-Prince, Université Laval

Conférencier:

Dr. Muhammad Mohiuddin

Assistant Professor of International Business & Global Strategy
School of Business and Economics, Thompson Rivers University

Dr. Mohiuddin has carried out many research projects regarding a variety of subjects such as development models of Asian countries, doing business in emerging markets, offshore outsourcing & developing dynamic capabilities and internationalization of firms. His researches are published in many journals and books and presented in numerous conferences. He has received some awards for excellence in research.

Information : Dr Zhan Su (418 656-2085 ; zhan.su@fsa.ulaval.ca)

Coûts : Entrée libre

La conférence sera présentée en anglais.

Chaire Stephen-A.-Jarislowsky
en gestion des affaires
internationales

HAUTES ÉTUDES
INTERNATIONALES
Comprendre. Débattre. Agir.

GERAC

Groupe d'études et de recherche
sur l'Asie contemporaine